

FOUNDATIONS OF BEHAVIOR

Presented by Molly Noon, BCBA, CCC-SLP

BEHAVIOR PROBLEM?

You are fantastic at teaching academic content, but find yourself being pulled to address the behavioral needs of a few students. What if you knew how to address those behavioral needs BEFORE they became disruptive? What if you applied your teaching skills to TEACHING behavior, instead of responding to it?

BEHAVIOR SOLUTION

This workshop that explains the scientific foundations of behavior and how to apply them in the classroom. Participants learn the basic building blocks of behavior and use them as the foundation to design specific teaching methods for both academics and pro-social behaviors in the classroom. Specific methods for prompting students will be discussed. Basic data collection methods will be incorporated.

MOLLY NOON, BCBA, CCC-SLP

LOGISTICS

Thursdays, April 23 – May 21st

Morning Session 11:00 – 12:00

Afternoon Session 3:00 – 4:00

Sessions delivered online via Zoom. Link will be provided the day before the first class.

Additional sessions may be opened, depending on demand.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Teachers, Para-professionals, Related service providers

COST

$100 per person.

Class is priced at $20 per session. If an individual is aware they will miss a class, price will be adjusted accordingly.

Group rates for more than 5 attendees from the same agency are available.

Please contact lindak@keystonelearning.org for information.

REGISTRATION

<https://forms.gle/rB9o9YF7xTV7ySWKA>